The Awakening and Selected Stories

Series/Series #: VINTAGE CLASSICS

Kate Chopin; Introduction by Jane Smiley

A Vintage Classics edition of a feminist literary landmark: the daring story of a woman's search for personal freedom that was so controversial in 1899 that it ended its author's career.

With an effortless, sure-handed artistry, Kate Chopin tells the story of Edna Pontellier, a young mother and model wife, whose romantic involvement with a young man during a vacation at a seaside resort allows her for the first time to imagine a freer life. Upon her return to New Orleans, Edna leaves her husband's home for her own cottage, pursues her artistic ambitions, and begins an affair, only to discover that the constraints of social custom are more powerful than she had thought.

Contemporary readers were shocked by the frank, unapologetic treatment of adultery in The Awakening, but over the ensuing century the novel went on to achieve the status of a classic for its visionary prescience and narrative brilliance.

- INTRODUCTION BY JANE SMILEY: Our edition will feature a new introduction by the Pulitzer Prize-winning writer Jane Smiley.
- CLASSIC SHORT STORIES: Our edition will include some of Chopin's most famous short stories, including "Desiree's Baby," "The Storm," and "The Story of an Hour."
- SALES OF COMPETING EDITIONS: The other current PRH editions of The Awakening have netted more than 1.3 million copies and backlist steadily at more than 13,000 copies a year.
- STRIKING PACKAGE: We will give this title a striking Vintage Classics cover.

About the Author/Illustrator

KATE CHOPIN (1851-1904) brought out her first novel, At Fault, at her own expense in 1890. It was followed by two well-reviewed collections of her short stories: Bayou Folk in 1894 and A Night in Acadie in 1897. The Awakening appeared in 1899 to an explosion of disapproving reviews and the cancellation of her next book contract. However, within a decade of her early death at the age of fifty-four, her literary genius began to be widely recognized.

ABOUT THE INTRODUCER: JANE SMILEY is the author of numerous novels, including A Thousand Acres, which was awarded the Pulitzer Prize, and the Last Hundred Years Trilogy: Some Luck, Early Warning, and *Golden Age. H*er most recent novels are Perestroika in Paris and A Dangerous Business. A member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, she has also received the PEN Center USA Lifetime Achievement Award for Literature.

The King Is Dead

Walter Tevis

For the first time ever, a complete collection of short fiction the New York Times bestselling author of The Queen's Gambit

Walter Tevis is widely regarded as a master for both his gritty poohall novels and his brilliant rendering of the world of competitive chess. This long overdue collection establishes Tevis's rightful place as a maestro of the short form, as well. Bringing together the 1981 short story collection Far From Home with a host of other previously unpublished stories from journals and magazines, this entertaining collection showcases Tevis's characteristic perceptiveness, empathy, and range. In one story, a man receives a phone call from his future self and follows their instructions to unpreditcable, calamitous results. In another, a famous actor and a young actress showcase their talent for acting both on and off the stage. Here also are five short stories set in poolhalls, including one that features Fast Eddie Felson and another that was the basis for the novel The Hustler. Here also is his first fictional foray into chess, with a ranked chess player finding fellowship in the prison yard with another player. In all of them, Tevis reminds again and again why his writing has long been revered for its roving curiosity and innate humanity. A VINTAGE ORIGINAL.

• TOGETHER FOR THE FIRST TIME: Combining the 1981 collection Far From Home with additional stories originally published in magazines and journals, this collection marks the first time all of Tevis's short fiction will be available together in a single volume.

• BESTSELLING AUTHOR OF *THE QUEEN'S GAMBIT: The Netflix series based on Tevis's brilliant novel about chess, addiction, and feminism was a phenomenon across the country. The Queen's Gambit spent 12 weeks on the New York Times bestseller list and has sold 227,000 copies across regular and MTI editions.

• BACKLIST REISSUE: The massive success of The Queen's Gambit has brought renewed attention to Walter Tevis, with major adaptions of his other works forthcoming. Building on this mounting popularity, Vintage is bringing together all of Tevis's backlist and this new story collection for a whole new generation of readers.

• BELOVED, GENRE-DEFYING WRITER: Walter Tevis has range. His science fiction garnered wide acclaim--including a 1980 Nebula Award for Best Novel--while The Hustler and The Color of Money immortalized the stylish, smoky poolhall. The King is Dead is an exciting collection that showcases Tevis's ability to write across genres and is sure to please any of his myriad fans.

Praise for Walter Tevis

"A spectacularly imaginative and entertaining author." —The Los Angeles Times

"[Tevis's] work is unique, with that element of infinite rereadability Nabokov held the hallmark of great literature. Like his characters . . . Tevis's work will endure." —Fantasy & Science Fiction

About the Author/Illustrator

Walter Tevis is the author of The Hustler, The Man Who Fell to Earth, Mockingbird, The Steps of the Sun, The Queen's Gambit, The Color of Money, and the short story collection Far from Home. The Hustler, The Man Who Fell to Earth, and The Color of Money were all adapted for film. The Queen's Gambit was the basis for the Emmy-nominated Netflix series and The Man Who Fell to Earth is the basis of the Showtime series. Tevis died in 1984.

The Autobiography of an Ex-Colored Man

A novel

James Weldon Johnson; Introduction by Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

A repackaged edition of the groundbreaking classic novel of the Black experience in America, with an introduction by Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

First published anonymously in 1912, this novel gave many white readers their first glimpse of the double standard—and double consciousness—that ruled the lives of Black people in America. Republished in 1927, at the height of the Harlem Renaissance, with an introduction by Carl Van Vechten, The Autobiography of an Ex-Colored Man emerged as a groundbreaking document of African-American culture and an eloquent model for later novelists ranging from Zora Neale Hurston to Richard Wright and Ralph Ellison.

Narrated by a man whose light skin enables him to "pass" for white, the novel describes a journey through the strata of Black society at the turn of the century—from a cigar factory in Jacksonville to an elite gambling club in New York, from genteel aristocrats to the musicians who hammered out the rhythms of ragtime. The Autobiography of an Ex-Colored Man is a complex and moving examination of the question of race and an unsparing look at what it meant to forge an identity as a man in a culture that recognized nothing but color. VINTAGE CLASSICS.

- CLASSIC OF BLACK LITERATURE: This influential novel of the Black experience in America is as relevant as ever.
- SALES TRACK: Our existing 1989 Vintage edition has netted 58,800 and backlists at about 700/year while Penguin's edition has netted 103,655 and backlists at 900/year.
- MODERNIZED SPELLING: Our previous edition suffered from using the archaic spelling of "Coloured' in the title, leaving it out of search results of competing editions. Our reissue conforms to the modern spelling as well as giving it a much more vibrant cover.
- INTRODUCTION BY HENRY LOUIS GATES, JR., the award-winning author, scholar, and filmmaker.
- BEAUTIFUL VINTAGE CLASSICS PACKAGE: We have a striking cover design using the original cover art by Harlem Renaissance artist Aaron Douglas.

About the Author/Illustrator

JAMES WELDON JOHNSON (1871–1938) was a novelist, poet, lawyer, editor, and ethnomusicologist, and coauthor of the hymn "Lift Every Voice and Sing," which is widely known as the "Negro National Anthem." Born in Jacksonville, Florida, he was educated at Atlanta University and at Columbia University and was the first Black lawyer admitted to the Florida bar. He was also a songwriter in New York, American consul in Venezuela and Nicaragua, executive secretary of the NAACP, and professor of creative literature at Fisk University. His other books include an autobiography, Along This Way, and the poetry collection God's Trombones.

ABOUT THE INTRODUCER:

HENRY LOUIS GATES, JR. is the Alphonse Fletcher University Professor and Director of the Hutchins Center for African and African American Research at Harvard University. An award-winning filmmaker, literary scholar, journalist, cultural critic, and institution builder, he has authored or coauthored twenty-five books and created twenty-one documentary films, including Finding Your Roots. His PBS documentary, The African Americans: Many Rivers to Cross, earned an Emmy Award, a Peabody Award, and an NAACP Image Award.

God's Trombones

Seven Negro Sermons in Verse

James Weldon Johnson; Introduction by Gregory Pardlo

A Harlem Renaissance classic: seven inspirational poems inspired by the powerful rhetorical traditions of African-American sermons and spirituals. VINTAGE CLASSICS.

James Weldon Johnson, the co-author of "Lift Every Voice and Sing" and author of The Autobiography of an Ex-Colored Man, was a leading figure of the Harlem Renaissance. In God's Trombones, one of his most celebrated works, the rich tradition of inspirational sermons by Black preachers are reimagined as poetry, reverberating with the musicality and splendid eloquence of the classic spirituals. This collection includes "The Creation," "The Prodigal Son," "Go Down Death (A Funeral Sermon)," "Noah Built the Ark," "The Crucifixion," "Let My People Go," and "The Judgment Day," and includes the remarkable original illustrations by artist Aaron Douglas.

- CLASSIC OF BLACK LITERATURE: First published in 1927, this collection is newly in the public domain.
- LIMITED COMPETITION: The Penguin edition from 2008 is the only other edition currently in print.
- INTRODUCTION BY GREGORY PARDLO, Pulitzer Prize-winning poet and essayist.
- ILLUSTRATIONS: Contains the eight gorgeous illustrations created for the original edition by noted Harlem Renaissance artist Aaron Douglas.
- BEAUTIFUL VINTAGE CLASSICS PACKAGE: We have a striking cover design using a piece of the interior art by Aaron Douglas.

The Schoolhouse
Sophie Ward

From the Booker Prize-longlisted author of Love and Other Thought Experiments comes a masterful and gripping thriller about truth, silence, and the weight of the past.

Isobel lives an isolated life in North London, where she works at a nearby library. She feels safe, so long as she keeps to her routines and doesn't let her thoughts stray too far into the past. But a newspaper photograph of a missing local schoolgirl and a letter from her old teacher send her spiraling and bring back the trauma of what happened years ago, when she was a pupil at The Schoolhouse.

The Schoolhouse was a 1970s experimental school where the usual rules did not apply. Life there was a dark interplay of freedom and adventure, violence and fear. It was here that Isobel learned that some truths should never be revealed. But try as she might, the truth is coming for Isobel, and everything and everyone she has tried to protect are now at risk. A VINTAGE ORIGINAL.

- BOOKER PRIZE-LONGLISTED AUTHOR: Sophie's debut novel, Love and Other Thought Experiments, was longlisted for the Booker Prize, as well as being shortlisted for the McKitterick Prize, longlisted for the Desmond Elliot Prize, and longlisted for the Polari Book Prize.
- THE AUTHOR: What can't Sophie Ward do? Originally finding fame as a top Vogue model and actress, Ward holds a PhD in the use of narrative in philosophy of mind. On screen, you'll see her in television shows like Young Sherlock Holmes, and in the 2011 film Jane Eyre.
- UNITED STATES CONNECTION: Sophie's wife is American, and the two split their time between London and LA. She will be in the United States over the summer and early autumn, and available for promotion.
- CONNECTION WITH PREVIOUS WORK: Sophie sees The Schoolhouse as a companion piece to Love and Other Thought Experiments. She wants to explore ideas about language, truth, and connection throughout her work and, while both books stand alone, they contribute to a larger artistic point.

Praise for Love and Other Thought Experiments:

- "Ward's ingenious fiction debut stands in a tradition of philosophical fiction: Voltaire's Candide, Sartre's Nausea. It sets out to be intellectually provocative; to tease, vitalise and liberate our thought processes. . . . Moving, exuberant and sensitive." –The Guardian (London)
- "Ward has achieved something quite extraordinary: a super-smart metaphysical romp that's also warm, wistful and heartfelt. A book that declares, winningly, that just because it's all in your head, it doesn't mean it's not real." –The Daily Telegraph (London)

About the Author/Illustrator

Author Residence: London, England, UK
and Los Angeles, CA

SOPHIE WARD is an actor and a writer. She has published articles in The Times, The Sunday Times, The Guardian, The Observer, The Spectator, Diva, and Red magazine, and her short stories have been published in the anthologies Finding a Voice, Book of Numbers, The Spiral Path, and The Gold Room. Her book A Marriage Proposal: The Importance of Equal Marriage and What it Means for All of Us was published as a Guardian short eBook in 2014. In 2018, Sophie won the Pindrop short story award for "Sunbed." She has a degree in philosophy and literature and a PhD from Goldsmiths, University of London, on the use of narrative in philosophy of mind.

The Other Family Doctor

A Veterinarian Explores What Animals Can Teach Us About Love, Life, and Mortality

Karen Fine

All Creatures Great and Small* meets Being Mortal in this compelling memoir of one woman's dream to become a veterinarian in a field historically dominated by men, and how, through her work both with her patients and their people, she comes to better understand humanity, mortality, and the unique role animals play in our lives.

Karen Fine always knew that she wanted to be a vet and wasn't going to let anything stop her: not her allergy to cats, and not the fact that in the '80s veterinary medicine was still a mostly male profession. Inspired by her grandfather, a compassionate doctor who paid house calls to all his (human) patients, Dr. Fine persevered, and brought her Oupa's principles into her own practice, which emphasizes the need to understand her patients' stories to provide the best possible care.

And in The Other Family Doctor, Dr. Fine shares all these touching, joyful, heartbreaking, and life-affirming tales that make up her career as a vet. There's the feral cat who becomes a creature out of a fable when he puts his trust in a young vet to heal his injured paw; the pot-bellied pig who grows too big to fit in the car but remains a cherished part of her family; the surprising colony of perfectly behaved ferrets; the beloved aging pet who gives her people the gift of accompanying them on one final family vacation; and the dog who saves his owner's life in a most unexpected way.

Woven into Dr. Fine's story are, of course, also the stories of her own pets: the birds, cats, and dogs who have taught her the most valuable lessons—how caring for the animals in our lives can teach us to better care for ourselves, especially when life seems precarious.

- A TRIBUTE TO OUR FURRY, FEATHERY, SCALELY, WET FAMILY MEMBERS: According to the most recent National Pet Owner's Survery, 70% of US households own a pet, and during pandemic that percentage has only gone up. Forced to stay at home, we understand now more than ever what the animals in our lives mean to us.
- AN UPBEAT BALM TO THE SARAH MCLACHLAN COMMERCIAL: Dr. Fine's voice, humor, and heart imbue every page—this is an immensely comforting read, the book equivalent of petting a happy puppy or having a warm cat curl up in your lap.
- A GUIDE TO GRIEF: But Dr. Fine also tackles the tough topics—and offers the warmest, most deeply felt, advice on how to deal with the death of a beloved pet. Anyone who has ever felt guilty over an adored animal's passing, as is all too commonly the case, will be soothed by Dr. Fine's wise words.
- FILLS A GAP: We've all heard and been moved by stories of doctors, their cases, and their patients, but this is the first major memoir of a veterinarian since James Herriot's classics.
- LITERALLY WROTE THE TEXTBOOK: In the pioneering field of narrative medicine, Dr. Fine is leading the charge. Her highly praised textbook on the subject—the first of its kind—came out last fall. She is an authority and an innovator in the field, bringing her wisdom to a popular audience for the first time.

About the Author/Illustrator

Author Residence: Leominster, MA

Dr. Karen Fine is a leading expert in the emerging field of veterinary narrative medicine and an associate veterinarian at Central Animal Hospital in Massachusetts. For twenty-five years, she owned and operated her own house call practice. The Last Catastrophe

Stories

Allegra Hyde

A hopeful, speculative short story collection about how humanity grapples in a world transformed by climate change.

A vast caravan of RVs roam the United States. A girl grows a unicorn horn, complicating her small-town friendships and big city ambitions. A young lady on a spaceship bonds with her AI warden while trying to avoid an arranged marriage. In Allegra Hyde's universe nothing is as it seems, yet the challenges her characters face mirror those of our modern age. Spanning the length of our very solar system, the fifteen stories in this collection explore a myriad of potential futures, all while reminding us that our world is precious, and that protecting it has the potential to bring us all together. A VINTAGE ORIGINAL

- BELOVED IN THE LITERARY COMMUNITY: Allegra's debut novel, Eleutheria, received fifteen blurbs from literary heavyweights such as Rumaan Alam, Bryan Washington, Karen Russell, Ron Rash, and Omar El Akkad. Her writing is widely-acclaimed and her fans are vocal in their admiration.
- BUZZY NOVEL FORTHCOMING: Eleutheria has received rave pre-publication reviews from Shelf Awareness and Publishers Weekly, and a review is forthcoming in the March print issue of EW with more to be confirmed. Allegra will appear on Late Night with Seth Meyers in April to talk about the novel, which is thematically linked with this collection.
- HOPEFUL CLIMATE-CENTERED FICTION: Allegra is passionate about sustainability and climate awareness, but her take on our climate crisis is a hopeful one. This mentality is expressed throughout her fiction, and this collection is urgent but never depressing, a welcome departure from other climate change fiction.
- FIRST SERIAL ALREADY SOLD: First serial rights to the collection have already been sold more than a year before pub, to BOMB.

Praise for Eleutheria:

- "Partly satirical, the book is also an urgent, absorbing story that asks how we are meant to live." —The New Yorker
- "Allegra Hyde has a sharp eye for the culture-war chaos and breezy narcissism of modern American life. And enough hope to hint that the youth might (might!) save us from ourselves." —Entertainment Weekly
- "Eleutheria achieves a remarkable humanity for a work that sets off global alarms. Hyde knows her title comes from the Greek word for "freedom," and knows as well that few concepts have been so perverted, so polluted. That maddening paradox enlivens everything here, 'caught in the slipstream of idealism and exploitation, the secret crux of the Americas.'" —Los Angeles Times

About the Author/Illustrator

Author Residence: Oberlin, Ohio Author Hometown: Peterborough, New Hampshire

ALLEGRA HYDE is the author of the novel Eleutheria and the story collection Of This New World, which won the John Simmons Short Fiction Award. Her stories and essays have appeared in The Pushcart Prize, Best of the Net, The Best Small Fictions, The Best American Travel Writing, and elsewhere. She lives in Ohio and teaches at Oberlin College.

The Society of Shame

Jane Roper

In this timely and witty combination of So You've Been Publicly Shamed and Where'd You Go, Bernadette? a viral photo of a politician's wife's "feminine hygiene malfunction" catapults her to unwanted fame in a story that's both a satire of social media stardom and internet activism, and a tender mother-daughter tale.

Kathleen Held's life is turned upside down when she arrives home to find her house on fire and her husband on the front lawn in his underwear. But the scandal that emerges is not that Bill, who's running for Senate, is having a painfully cliched affair with one of his young staffers: it's that the eyewitness photographing the scene accidentally captures a period stain on the back of Kathleen's pants.

Overnight, Kathleen finds herself the unwitting figurehead for a social media-centered women's right movement, #YesWeBleed. Humiliated, Kathleen desperately seeks a way to hide from the spotlight. But when she stumbles upon the Society of Shame—led by the infamous author Danica Bellevue—Kathleen finds herself part of a group who are all working to change their lives after their own scandals. Using the teachings of the society, Kathleen channels her newfound fame as a means to reap the benefits of her humiliation and reclaim herself. But as she ascends to celebrity status, Kathleen's growing obsession with maintaining her popularity online threatens her most important relationship IRL: that with her budding activist daughter, Aggie.

Hilarious and heartfelt, The Society of Shame is a pitch-perfect romp through politics and the perils of being "extremely online"—without losing your sanity or your true self.

- SOS = LOL: Roper's comedic voice is impossibly winning and will have you chortling aloud from page one. There are endlessly delightly one-liners, but also a perfect and perfectly pitched understanding of the absurd—a.k.a., the world we are all forced to live in. See the incredible early blurbs for excellent descriptions of several functional adults collapsing into laughter.
- NUANCED: The now-dreaded phrase "cancel culture" (ugh) is more of a hot-button topic than ever: see, recently, everything from Lindsay Ellis beingdriven off YouTube to "West Elm Caleb" to Maus being banned in Tennessee. Roper leans in to how complicated these social shunnings can be, often defying the easy labels of "good" and "bad" that Twitter discourse seeks to put on things.
- SHARP BUT NOT CYNICAL: And while The Society of Shame provides a pointed satire of exactly how that kind of online discourse can go so dreadfully wrong, this is ultimately a book about how people can change, improve, and make a difference. In particular. . .
- THE KIDS ARE ALL RIGHT: Kid characters are hard to nail in fiction, but Aggie and her friends feel so incredibly real—you can tell that Roper herself is the mother of two teenagers. And amid all the adult buffoonery and bad behavior, Aggie's sincere work to improve the world is a breath of fresh air. (The children are our future!)
- A MIGHTY LIST OF CONNECTIONS: As host of The Mighty Blaze's "The Zeitgeist" show, Roper has interviewed a fantastic roster of authors, including Kristen Arnett, Jason Mott, Jim Shepard, Jo Piazza, and more.

The Enigma of Garlic

44 Scotland Street Series (16) Series/Series #: 44 SCOTLAND STREET SERIES

Alexander McCall Smith

The latest installment in the charming and congenial 44 Scotland Street series finds all our favorite residents of Scotland's most celebrated address up to their usual hilarious hijinks.

It's the most anticipated event of the decade--Big Lou and Fat Bob's wedding--and everyone is invited! But the relative peace and tranquillity of 44 Scotland Street is about to be disrupted. Domineering Irene is set to return for a two-month stay, consigning young Bertie to a summer camp. Not content with that, she somehow manages to come between the enigmatic nun, Sister Maria-Fiore dei Fiori di Montagna, and her friend, the hagiographer, Antonia Collie. And can a person really change, even after being struck by lightning? Bruce Anderson's metamorphosis and new-found outlook on life is put to the test as he prepares to leave his creature comforts for the monastic simplicity of Pluscarden Abbey. His house sitter, meanwhile, gets a little too comfortable in his new life and discovers that his talented employer's shoes are all too easy to slip into. With great taste comes great responsibility.

Alexander McCall Smith's delightfully witty, wise and sometimes surreal comedy spirals out in surprising ways in this new installment, but its heart remains where it has always been, at the center of life in Edinburgh's New Town.

- SERIES SUCCESS: The 44 Scotland Street series is a fan favorite and has consistently performed well. Each new entry in the series is hotly anticipated, and Big Lou's wedding is an event longtime readers will not want to miss.
- SALES TRACK: Sandy is one of the best-selling authors at KDPG. His books have sold more than seventeen million copies across formats, with his No. 1 Ladies' Detective Agency series selling more than 7.5 million.
- AUTHOR PLATFORM: Sandy has received numerous accolades for his work, and has a robust online platform. His newsletter is one of our most popular, and he has more than 80,000 fans on Facebook and almost 19,000 followers on Twitter.

Praise for Alexander McCall Smith's 44 Scotland Street series:

- "McCall Smith's charming, quirky and exasperating characters make you smile in spite of yourself."--The Independent
- "Powerfully addicting fiction. . . . Delightful. . . . [A] graceful and always amusing depiction of the pleasures and problems of everyday life."--Entertainment Weekly
- "Very special. . . . Underpinned by a guiding moral intelligence. . . . Sense and humor fuse absolutely." --The Scotsman

Sea Change

A Novel

Gina Chung

A novel about a woman tossed overboard by heartbreak and loss, who has to find her way back to stable shores with the help of a giant Pacific octopus.

Ro is stuck. She's just entered her thirties, she's estranged from her mother, and her boyfriend has just left her to join a mission to Mars. Her days are spent dragging herself to her menial job at a mall aquarium, and her nights are spent drinking sharktinis (Mountain Dew and copious amounts of gin, plus a hint of jalapeno). With her best friend pulling away to focus on her upcoming wedding, Ro's only companion is Dolores, a giant Pacific octopus who also happens to be Ro's last remaining link to her father, a marine biologist who disappeared while on an expedition when Ro was a teenager.

When Dolores is sold to a wealthy investor intent on moving her to a private aquarium, Ro finds herself on the precipice of self-destruction. Wading through memories of her youth, Ro has one last chance to come to terms with her childhood trauma, recommit to those around her, and find her place in an ever-changing world. A VINTAGE ORIGINAL

2021-2022 CENTER FOR FICTION/SUSAN KAMIL EMERGING WRITER FELLOW: Gina is beloved in the literary community, with accolades galore. In addition to her Center for Fiction/Susan Kamil fellowship, she is an alumnus of several workshops and/or craft intensives, including the Asian American Writers' Workshop, Sevilla Writers House, Kweli, and Tin House; her stories have been nominated for the Pushcart Prize and recognized by the American Short(er) Fiction Contest, The Black Warrior Review Contest, the Lost Angeles Review Literary Awards, and more.

OCTOPUS MANIA: The world has gone octopus mad, with the documentary My Octopus Teacher receiving critical acclaim and becoming a huge hit, and this book is poised to tap directly into that audience.

CLIMATE-FOCUSED: Ro and Dolores's world is one where climate change has progressed—April is often unseasonably warm and Dolores's home is polluted beyond recognition. That said, this is a book about hope, about learning to live in a changing world, about taking steps to help that world and help yourself.

WITTY AND TOPICAL: With colonization trips to Mars, a climate-ravaged ocean, and New Jersey mall culture, Sea Change speaks to our times in an elegant and poignant way.

Praise for Gina Chung's Sea Change:

- "There are no limits to what Chung can do. Her prose is so immersively beautiful that at times I felt swept away in a wave, admiring from underwater, her scintillating refractions of light. Chung's debut is a kaleidoscope of originality. She will enchant you." —Weike Wang, author of Joan is Okay
- "Gina Chung's Sea Change is both elegant and jagged, sharp and lush. It's so utterly original, with Chung's rich and rewarding prose guiding and charting new territory in love and grief and growth. This novel about settling into yourself, changing alongside your family, eclipsing expectations, and searching for hope in infinitude is humorous and ruminative, transcending genres entirely. Chung's writing is masterful, and Sea Change is glorious." —Bryan Washington, author of Memorial and Lot
- "Sea Change tugged at my heart and refused to let go. With tenderness and perceptiveness, Chung deftly navigates family, loss, friendship and the intricacies of love, especially for ourselves. Between giant Pacific octopuses and humans, this remarkable debut reminds us that we are not so different–all of us hoping to be witnessed, all of us striving to surface through our loneliness to connect, even when we know nothing is permanent." —Elaine Hsieh Chou, author of Disorientation

Sizzle Reel

A Novel

Carlyn Greenwald

An unputdownable queer coming-of-age rom-com about life and love in Hollywood.

"This vibrant, sun-drenched romantic comedy is both an irresistible love story and a riveting exploration of Hollywood dynamics." —Rachel Lynn Solomon, New York Times bestselling author of The Ex Talk

For aspiring cinematographer Luna Roth, coming out as bisexual at twenty-four is proving more difficult than she anticipated. Sure, her best friend and fellow queer Romy is thrilled for her—but she has no interest in coming out to her backwards parents, she wouldn't know how to flirt with a girl if one fell at her feet, and she has no sexual history to build off. Not to mention she really needs to focus her energy on escaping her emotionally-abusive-but-that's-Hollywood talent manager boss and actually get working under a real director of photography anyway.

When she meets twenty-eight-year-old A-list actress Valeria Sullivan around the office, Luna thinks she's found her solution. She'll use Valeria's interest in her cinematography to get a PA job on the set of Valeria's directorial debut—and if Valeria is as gay as Luna suspects, and she happens to be Luna's route to losing her virginity, too . . . well, that's just an added bonus. Enlisting Romy's help, Luna starts the juggling act of her life—impress Valeria's DP to get another job after this one, get as close to Valeria as possible, and help Romy with her own career moves.

But when Valeria begins to reciprocate romantic interest in Luna, the act begins to crumble—straining her relationship with Romy and leaving her job prospects precarious. Now Luna has to figure out if she can she fulfill her dreams as a filmmaker, keep her best friend, and get the girl. . . or if she's destined to end up on the cutting room floor.

- QUEER FRIENDS TO LOVERS ROM-COM: Sizzle Reel is the perfect escapist fantasyand a fantastically fun read for anyone who fantasizes about Hollywood life and likes tospeculate about actors' queerness.
- HOLLYWOOD (NOT-SO-)GLAMOUR: Fans of books and shows about Hollywood willlove the LA in these pages. It's the perfect mix of gritty and glamorous, and an idealarmchair travel read.
- COMING OF AGE: In addition to a steamy romance, Sizzle Reel explores what it's liketo come out as an adult, how it feels to broach the topic with a loving but cluelessfamily, and how to navigate a professional setting when your sexuality becomes apoint of interest. Luna's evolution makes for poignant, compelling reading.
- YA CROSSOVER: Carlyn is the cowriter on a queer YA romance alongside Sean Hayesand Todd Milliner that S&S will be publishing in summer/fall 2023, which will give us an additional bump after on-sale

Symphony of Secrets

Brendan Slocumb

From the celebrated author of book club favorite The Violin Conspiracy: A gripping page-turner about a professor who uncovers a shocking secret about the most famous American composer of all time—that his music was stolen from a young Black composer named Josephine Reed. Determined to uncover the truth and right history's wrongs, Bern Hendricks will stop at nothing to finally give Josephine the recognition she deserves.

Bern Hendricks has just received the call of a lifetime. As one of the world's preeminent experts on the famed twentieth-century composer Frederick Delaney, Bern knows everything there is to know about the man behind the music. When Mallory Roberts, a board member of the distinguished Delaney Foundation and direct descendant of the man himself, asks for Bern's help authenticating a newly discovered piece, which may be his famous lost opera, RED, he jumps at the chance. With the help of his tech-savvy acquaintance Eboni, Bern soon discovers that the truth is far more complicated than history would have them believe.

In 1920s Manhattan, Josephine Reed is living on the streets and frequenting jazz clubs when she meets the struggling musician Fred Delaney. But where young Delaney struggles, Josephine soars. She's a natural prodigy who hears beautiful music in the sounds of the world around her. With Josephine as his silent partner, Delaney's career takes off—but who is the real genius here?

In the present day, Bern and Eboni begin to uncover more clues that indicate Delaney may have had help in composing his most successful work. Armed with more questions than answers and caught in the crosshairs of a powerful organization who will stop at nothing to keep their secret hidden, Bern and Eboni will move heaven and earth in their dogged quest to right history's wrongs.

FANTASTIC MOMENTUM: Brendan Slocumb's first novel, The Violin Conspiracy, was a highly touted debut reaching readers across the consumer spectrum. It was also a Good Morning America Book Club pick, which helped garner him a legion of fans. Momentum continues to grow, and we will build off that energy heading into publication of this book.
HIGHLY PROMOTABLE AUTHOR: Slocumb is charming, energetic, and happy to hustle for this project. He is his own best advocate on the event stage and in the social media spotlight. He's also a classically trained violinist and host of a podcast about musicians of color in the classical music world.
A PERFECT FOLLOW-UP: This book is a perfect logical follow-up to Slocumb's debut. It features an engaging, character-driven story with light elements of mystery. Here again, Slocumb pulls back the curtain and gives readers a glimpse into the rarified world of classical music.
MUSICAL PROSE: A talented musician in his own right, Slocumb's writing about music is simply unmatched. He writes elegantly and effortlessly about music and composition, and this novel affords him ample opportunity to do so.
HISTORICAL AND TIMELY: The narrative bounces back and forth between a roaring 1920s New York City and a decidedly more modern and familiar present. From questions of agency and artistic ownership to the ethics of billionaires and board members, Slocumb shines a light on many of the thornier aspects of today's society.

Essays

Samantha Irby

A much-anticipated, hilarious new essay collection from #1 New York Times bestselling unabashed fan-favorite Samantha Irby invites us to share in the gory particulars of her real life, all that festers behind the glitter and glam.

Beloved writer Samantha Irby has returned to the printed page for her much-anticipated, sidesplitting fourth book following her 2020 breakout, Wow, No Thank You, a Vintage Books Original.

The success of Irby's career has taken her to new heights. She fields calls with job offers from Hollywood and walks the red carpet with the iconic ladies of Sex and the City. Finally, she has made it. But, behind all that new-found glam, Irby is just trying to keep her life together as she always had.

Her teeth are poisoning her from inside her mouth, and her diarrhea is back. She gets turned away from a restaurant for wearing ugly clothes, she goes to therapy and tries out Lexapro, gets healed with RReiki, explores the power of crystals, and becomes addicted to QVC. Making light of herself as she takes us on an outrageously funny tour of all the details that make up a true portrait of her life, Irby is once again the relatable, uproarious tonic we all need.

A VINTAGE ORIGINAL.

- #1 BESTSELLING AUTHOR: Irby's Wow, No Thank You was an instant #1 New York Times bestseller and sold over 140,000 copies in print, ebook, and audio, despite the fact that it was published directly into lockdown in April, 2020.
- UNIQUE VOICE & MEDIA DARLING: Irby is a star and a favorite among the media, where she is prized for her honesty and provocative humor about sex, feminism, and bodily functions. Wow, No Thank You appeared on over twenty most anticipated lists, and won Irby a Lambda Award. Irby has consistently grown ever more popular. Most recently, she has received love for her widely recognized, laugh-out-loud funny newsletter recapping episodes of Judge Mathis, and her work as a writer and co-producer for TV shows such as HBO's reboot of Sex and the City, Work in Progress, Shrill, and Tuca & Bertie.
- SOCIAL MEDIA STAR: Irby is beloved and has many adoring fans on social media. Since the publication of WOW, NO THANK YOU, her following on Instagram has grown from 52k to 140k. Irby will help drive preorders for her newest book on social with specifically designed humorous content for the book.
- ALL NEW MATERIAL FOR FANS: This essay collection is comprised of entirely of new and hysterically funny essays, which Irby's devoted readers will lap up and pass around hand-to-hand as they did with her previous three books. Although very much in theme with her earlier work, there's more of everything readers love about Irby's writing and more in this collection.

The Rainbow

Series/Series #: VINTAGE INTERNATIONAL

Yasunari Kawabata

Available in English for the very first time, a powerful, poignant novel about three half sisters in post-war Japan, from the Nobel Prize-winning author of Snow Country.

With the Second World War only a few years in the past, and Japan still reeling from its effects, two sisters—born to the same father but different mothers—struggle to make sense of the new world in which they are coming of age. Asako, the younger, has become obsessed with locating a third sibling, while also experiencing love for the first time. While Momoko, their father's first child—haunted by the loss of her kamikaze boyfriend and their final, disturbing days together—seeks comfort in a series of unhealthy romances. And both sisters find themselves unable to outrun the legacies of their late mothers. A thoughtful, probing novel about the enduring traumas of war, the unbreakable bonds of family, and the inescapability of the past, Beyond the Rainbow is a searing, melancholy work from one of Japan's greatest writers. A VINTAGE ORIGINAL.

- AUTHOR: One of Japan's most acclaimed writers, Yasunari Kawabata wasthe first Japanese author to win the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1968. His Facebook page, managed by Vintage, has 45k followers.
- A VINTAGE ORIGINAL: First published in Japan in 1955, Beyond the Rainbow was written in the midst of Kawabata's most fruitful period, a streak in which he composed the classics Thousand Cranes, The Sound of the Mountain, The Lake, and House of the Sleeping Beauties. This edition marks the first time the novel has ever been translated into English.
- BACKLIST: Kawabata's Beauty and Sadness, Snow Country, The Sound of the Mountain, Thousand Cranes, The Master of Go, and Beauty and Sadness are also available from Vintage, as paperbacks and eBooks. In addition, the short story collection, House of the Sleeping Beauties and Other Stories, is available as an eBook.
- INTERNATIONAL PUBLICATION: We will be publishing alongside Penguin Classics in the UK.
- JAPANESE CLASSICS AT KDPG: The publication of Beyond the Rainbow is just the latest chapter in KDPG's long history of publishing great Japanese literature. Harold Strauss, Knopf's editor-in-chief from the mid-1940s through the mid-1960s, was the first person to champion modern Japanese writers in the West, and we are thrilled to continue his legacy.

"Kawabata's novels are among the most affecting and original works of our time." — The New York Times Book Review

About the Author/Illustrator

YASUNARI KAWABATA, winner of the 1968 Nobel Prize for Literature, is one of Japan's most distinguished novelists. Born in Osaka in 1899, he published his first stories while he was still in high school. He graduated from Tokyo Imperial University in 1924. His story "The Izu Dancer," first published in 1925, appeared in The Atlantic Monthly in 1955. Among his major novels published in the United States are Snow Country (1956), The Master of Go (1972), and Beauty and Sadness (1975). Kawabata was found dead, by his own hand, in 1972.

Breathless

A Thriller

Amy McCulloch

BOOK OF THE MONTH CLUB PICK • A high-altitude thriller that will take your breath away—Cecily Wong is on her most dangerous climb yet, miles above sea level. But the elements are nothing compared to one chilling truth: There's a killer on the mountain.

"A vertigo-inducing page-turner by an author who brings the high-stakes world of expert mountain-climbing to life on the page." —Nita Prose, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Maid

Journalist Cecily Wong is in over her head. She's come to Manaslu, the eighth-highest peak in the world, to interview internationally famous mountaineer Charles McVeigh on the last leg of a record-breaking series of summits. She's given up everything for this story—her boyfriend, her life savings, the peace she's made with her climbing failures in the past—but it's a career-making opportunity. It could finally put her life back on track.

But when one climber dies in what everyone else assumes is a freak accident, she fears their expedition is in danger. And by the time a second climber dies, it's too late to turn back. Stranded on a mountain in one of the most remote regions of the world, she'll have to battle more than the elements in a harrowing fight for survival against a killer who is picking them off one by one.

- BOOK OF THE MONTH BUMP: Breathless had a fantastic first week, driven in large part by Book of the Month Club. Sales were among the strongest we've seen from the program, indicating a hungry audience for the book – and BOTMC is known to drive visibility long-term through their own marketing.
- PROMOTABLE AUTHOR: Amy McCulloch had a fabulous appearance on the Today Show promoting the hardcover. She is a winning presence and a fantastic author-partner, and has provided tons of mountaineering content for us to market the book.
- PERFECT TIMING: This paperback is set for an April on-sale date, which places it at the front end of Everest season (April, May, and June), when droves of climbers will attempt the summit.
- KNOWS HER SUBJECT MATTER: McCulloch is a mountaineer in her own right. She's the youngest Canadian to ever summit Mount Manaslu, and she began writing this book in the "death zone" – the thin air above 26,000 feet.
- HOUSE AUTHOR: We'll be publishing McCulloch's next thriller, Restless, set around an expedition in the Antarctic. She is a tremendous author writing exhilarating mysteries set in the world of adventure travel, and we are committed to doing everything we can to make her a household name.

About the Author/Illustrator

Author Residence: London

AMY McCULLOCH is the author of Breathless, as well as eight novels for children and young adults, including the internationally bestselling YA novel The Magpie Society: One for Sorrow. In 2019, she became the youngest Canadian woman to climb Manaslu in Nepal. She lives in London.

The Lifestyle

A Novel

Taylor Hahn

A heartwarming and hilarious novel about swinging, marriage, and complexities of the heart.

Georgina Wagman has it all—a great marriage, a great job at a prestigious law firm, and great friends. She's living the life she always wanted, and everything is perfect. Until, that is, she walks in on her husband Nathan in a compromising position with a junior associate. Georgina has a moment of crisis. But divorce is not a part of the five-year plan, so she comes up with an idea to save her marriage and recapture the spark. She and Nathan are going to become swingers.

Georgina isn't going to embark on this adventure alone, though. Her friends Felix and Norah and their respective partners decide to tag along for the ride. They've got relationship woes of their own that swinging just might fix. Georgina, convinced Felix and Norah belong together, is thrilled. What better place to reignite romance between two people destined to be together than a swingers' party? Her plan is foolproof, until she runs into a college ex at the first party. When they reconnect, Georgina will find herself torn between her head and her heart, with her very happiness hanging in the balance. Perfect for fans of Jennifer Weiner and Sophie Kinsella, The Lifestyle is a playful homage to Jane Austen's Emma Woodhouse and an outrageously fun summer read.

- Film/TV rights sold: Universal & Emily Cummins (Julie Plec of Vampire Diaries) optioned the book in May and have hired a writer and a showrunner. They are excited about series potential.
- Perfect beach read: A light, fun rom-com that's perfect to throw in your beach tote, this is escapist reading at its best.
- Rom-com fans rejoice: The spicy love triangle that develops between Georgina, Whittaker, and Nathan will have rom-com lovers in heaven.
- Jane Austen for the modern age: Georgina is Hahn's loving homage to Austen's Emma Woodhouse, reimagined for a contemporary audience. Think Clueless, with swinger.

- "This book is fun as hell. Hilarious, addictive, moving, and sexy. I lost track of time reading it, and I couldn't get enough!" —Jasmine Guillory, bestselling author of While We Were Dating
- "A fun, fizzy, partner-swapping spin on Jane Austen's Emma, exploring friendship, true love, the roads not taken … and the ones you never thought you would. An ideal poolside read."
  —Heather Cocks & Jessica Morgan, bestselling authors of The Heir Affair.
- "The Lifestyle is funny and sexy, a masterful exploration of marriage and friendship, ambition and swingers, and a frantic search for happiness that leads to the most unexpected places. Taylor Hahn's debut is addictive and smart—a romantic comedy with a twist!—and I couldn't put it down."
  —Jennifer Close, bestselling author of Girls in White Dresses
